RESEARCH INTERESTS

My research interests and passion lie in the field of humanitarian architecture, including all topics related to shelter, refugees, camps, and culture. My previous and ongoing research which looks at the refugee camps in Jordan and the shelter design in the Middle East, opened for me various additional interests and encouraged my curiosity towards many architectural topics to be further researched in the future, such as reconstruction, the relation between refugee camps and the urban fabric, and social/affordable housing. I am also interested in all topics related to equity, equality and inclusion in architecture, whether that was based on gender, age, or disabilities.
