

(0401734)Renewable Electric Energy Systems

and characteristics of renewable energy based electric power generation technologies. Photovoltaic systems, wind systems, and fuel cells. Main design issues of these generation systems, integration of the renewable energy sources into the power system; technical and economic aspects. Economics of distributed generation. Latest development related to hybrid energy system and modern electric vehicles.