

0402265 Engineering Materials Lab.

(1 Credit hour, Prerequisite 0402260 Engineering Materials Science)

The laboratory is intended to give the student the basic principles of metal preparations and inspections. This will include the following experiments: materials testing and evaluation, metallography, heat treatments. mechanical testing of metals and plastics, hardness tests, specimen preparation and surface treatment.