

0404444 Operations Research & Process

(3 Credit hours, Prerequisite: 0404211)

Optimization Objective functions. Basic mathematical foundations of optimization techniques. Principles and applications of optimization techniques to chemical processes; unconstrained optimization, equality constrained optimization, and inequality constrained optimization for linear and nonlinear systems. Selected applications in chemical engineering.