

0403363 Soil Mechanics Lab.

The aim of this subjects is to provide the students with the basic knowledge and experience on laboratory soil testing. This includes the followings: determination of the physical properties of soils, determination of the mechanical properties of soils, sieve analysis, liquid and plastic limits, permeability, consolidation, swelling and shear strength, unconfined compression test , triaxial test.